Feared That Fort De France is Burning Rapidly in Martinique.

Horrible Scene in Some of the Districts—Talk of Abandoning St. Pierre for a Year.

A NEW THEORY OF DISASTER.

Point A Pitre, Guadeloupe, May 15.—Word has reached here of great conflagrations on Martinique that, according to the ship that reports them, are apparently at or close to Fort de France. Pelée is still active and red hot rocks are still being flung from the crater, and among the dreadful possibilities suggested by the sight of fresh fires on shore is that the volcano has set the Fort, that is the refuge of the thousand people who fled from the vicinity of St. Pierre, ablaze. We can only hope that the funeral pyre of the dead have been mistaken for a city on fire.

Though absolutely all the life within the border of St. Pierre was destroyed, not a single soul escaping, the rains show great variations of the force and fury of the destroying fire current.

The fiercest flame was directly across that part of the town known as the fort, where the walls were tumbling to nothing; here the houses seem to have been dissolved into thin air, for not even the foundations can be traced.

A contrast to this is the district known as Montilage, which is recognizable from the walls that still stand. In the fort district the dead were utterly consumed, but in Montilage there are bodies everywhere, denuded of clothing and charred so that it is impossible to distinguish black from white and men from women. It might be possible to identify a few by the jewelry, some of which is partially fused on the dead, but there is no time for even an inspection, let alone examination. All bodies are cast on the funeral pyres, heaps of wood saturated with kerosene, as fast as they can be gathered and yet the speed is far inadequate to the task and the terror of posthumous is daily getting more vivid.

Almost as great as the need for food for the survivors of the district is the need of disinfection by the ship load to protect the living from the dead. Men can only work at the hideous labor of disposing of the corpses for a few minutes at a time before being overcome.

There is talk of abandoning St. Pierre for a year to allow the elements and vultures to accomplish the task that is too great for men. It is suggested that the government will establish a forbidden zone within which no person will be allowed to pass on any pretext, the dead line to be guarded by soldiers.

The plan would be to scatter masses of quick lime over St. Pierre and then abandon it, the sea side to be guarded against intrusion by the navy, the land side by the army.

Local scientists say the destruction of St. Pierre was too swift for the agency of fire, and attribute it to some terrible unknown electrical phenomenon, the fire being supplementary and subsequent. In other words, they say part of the town was destroyed by disintegration.

APPOINTED SPECIAL JUDGE.

Frankfort, Ky., May 11.—Governor Beckham this morning appointed Judge Ira J. Allen of this city special judge of the Leslie circuit court to try a number of land cases. Court begins in June.

Yesterday's Attendance at the Carnival Was Over 12,000 People.

Last Night Over 8,000 Paid to go in—All Attractions Liberally Patronized.

TOMORROW IS GOVERNOR'S DAY HERE

The attendance at the Elks jubilee carnival yesterday and last night was the largest of the week, and amounted to something over 12,000 during the day. The largest crowd was last night, over 8,000 paid admissions being reported. The people were in high good humor and spent their money freely. The shows on midway were well patronized and are greatly pleased with the business they are doing.

The Elks are also well pleased. The weather thus far has been as perfect as could be wished. The people have come in by the hundred and every day finds new people and more of them.

Tomorrow, it is expected, will be the big day, although Saturday there will be a thousand people or more here from Illinois. The Fowler boats will go down to Joppa to bring the C. and E. I. excursion to Paducah from Illinois towns, and fully 1,100 are expected over the C. and E. I. alone.

THE MIDWAY.

All of the shows on the midway did a thriving business last night and every one was well pleased and pronounced all the exhibitions the finest and most elaborate of anything seen outside of the Pan-American exposition. More than 7,000 people paid admission to the animal show and were amazed at the wonderful exhibitions of the trained wild animals. This speaks well for the animal show which never before visited this city and was the most successful concession at the world's fair at Chicago and later the Buffalo exposition. The arena is the same used at each of the above exhibitions and later at the Charleston exposition. Nothing like it has toured this section of the country since shows were inaugurated. Colonel Ferrari has more lions than all traveling aggregations combined. His lion incubator is most interesting, containing some 10 lion cubs from two weeks old to 7 months.

Wild Minnie is truly a scientific steady and not the usual wild girl, or so called wild girl found on fair grounds and exhibitions. This is one of the strangest creatures today on exhibition and a most worthy one.

COL. FERRARI'S

KANGAROO PUGILIST.

A four footed fighter on the midway. Lovers of the manly art will characterize it as the "kangaroo art" after visiting Colonel Francis Ferrari's trained wild animal show on the midway, where one of the most interesting performances of each day is a bout between a kangaroo and a man. Big Frank is the name of the former and Prof. Jimmie Briggs of the Royal Aquarium, London, that of the latter. If there are any who fear that cruelty to animals is practiced at this performance given by the Ferrari animal aggregation, their sympathy will go to Prof. Briggs. He is not the animal, let this be plain, but he generally gets the worst of the deal, and has threatened to withdraw his connection with the enterprise, which insists that he must get many daily drubbings in order to earn his salary. Strange to say the audience is with the kangaroo. More strange is this, that Frank is not Preston Hill, Colored, Run Over by a Train Near the Depot.

Rode the Blind Baggage to Paducah from Mayfield and Fell Beneath the Wheels.

RIGHT LEG WAS MASHED OFF

Preston Hill, a colored banjo picker of Mayfield, was run over by the fast Memphis and Louisville passenger train No. 102 at 11:48 a. m. today and his right leg below the knee cut off.

Preston boarded the blind baggage at Mayfield where he has been living for some time and when the train arrived here jumped as the depot was reached. He jumped in order to avoid arrest, he said, and did not quite clear the train, his banjo interfering as he alighted. He was struck in the right side of the head by the step of the next car and knocked to the ground. The wheels passed over his right leg and mangled it so badly that it hung by mere threads of flesh. A colored switchman saw the accident and rushed to the injured man lifting him out of the way of the other wheels. He was removed to the storeroom opposite the depot and Drs. Isabel and Coylo summoned. The injury to the head is serious and the leg had to be amputated just below the knee.

Hill's father and mother live in Oklahoma and he has been traveling around for some time making his living by picking his banjo. He is only 18 years of age and admits that the accident was due to his own carelessness in jumping off the train.

"ELIJAH'S" DAUGHTER.

DIED IN HORRIBLE AGONY WHILE HE PRAYED OVER HER.

Chicago, May 15.—Esther Dowle, daughter of Dr. Alexander Dowle, proprietor of "Zinn," died last night from burns, having suffered untold agonies for several hours without medical attention while "Elijah" prayed over her.

War Veteran Shoots Himself Near Carrsville, Livingston County.

It is Supposed the Shot Was Fired With Suicidal Intent—Lived Ten Hours.

SAID TO HAVE BEEN DRINKING

News has just reached the city of the supposed suicide of a well known man in Livingston county. James McCain, residing about one and a half miles below Carrsville, shot and killed himself last Saturday. He had just returned from a trip to Golconda and is said to have been under the influence of liquor. After partaking of a hearty dinner he became very boastful and drawing his pistol began to flourish it. The weapon was discharged and the ball entered his head near the temple penetrating the brain, causing death in about 10 hours.

He was unconscious from the time he was shot. The deceased was about 60 years of age and was a pensioner of the civil war. Besides a wife he left five children. They are almost grief stricken over the tragedy.

It is not known whether the fatal shot was fired accidentally or with suicidal intent. The indications are that it was fired purposely, although the victim said nothing to indicate that he was going to take his own life.

IRWIN BILL.

IT IS BELIEVED THAT IT WILL BE PASSED BY CONGRESS.

Washington, May 15.—The house committee on labor this morning favorably reported Representative Irwin's bill for the investigation of the condition of the negroes. Mr. Irwin is hopeful of having the bill passed at this session.

—Mrs. Walter Radolph of the county, a sister of Mrs. Charles Hall of North Fifth street, is reported in a dying condition.

A Few Cases Continued in the Police Court This Morning.

Breaches of the Peace also Went Over Until Later in the Week by Order of Court.

OBJECTION RAISED TO ONE BOND

As a result of the raid made yesterday on the gamblers there were a few cases in the police court this morning. Only a few arrests were made out of the scores of games that were in operation everywhere and the other gamblers, it is understood, have left the city.

The case against L. H. Kauffman, for suffering a game to be set up in his cigar store, was continued until Monday and all the witnesses recognized.

The case against E. Costard for setting up a game was continued until Monday. Mr. James Robertson went the young man's bond for $300 and this morning he left town. The case was continued in order that an attempt be made to bring him back to the city for trial. Commonwealth Attorney Bradshaw objected to the bond the man was placed under as it was $200 lower than the lowest penalty for the charge. The lowest due for setting up a game is $500 and the bond was for only $300.

Charles Carson, colored, charged with drunk and disorderly and with chasing Little Wilson about the streets was arraigned for drunk and disorderly conduct and with threatening to kill the woman. The case was continued until Saturday.

The case against A. C. McKinney, white, charged with disorderly conduct and with threats to kill his wife, was continued until Saturday and the defendant placed under a $50 bond and the witnesses recognized.

The case against L. H. Kauffman and El Gathrie, for breach of the peace, was continued until Saturday.

The case against Jim Finnigan for suffering a game to be set up in his store was also continued until Monday.

TO BECOME MUSICAL.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL CLUBS TO BE ORGANIZED BY Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS.

The management of the Y. M. C. A. and several members of the association will shortly organize a male chorus and about 30 voices will be trained if possible to secure them.

A meeting will be held next week to arrange for the organization and it is thought that all the musical members will be interested to the extent of joining. This is something that nearly all the associations have and the local association wants to keep up with the others. A mandolin, guitar and banjo club will also be organized among the members and Mr. Leroy Lightfoot, of Henderson, leader of the Henderson Association club, will have charge of the local club. This is all that has been lacking, a leader and now that one has been secured it is thought that no trouble whatever will be encountered in effecting the organization and securing a large membership.

CONTROL OF THE MONON.

New York, May 15.—There is today confirmation of the report that the joint control of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville—Monon—has been acquired by the Louisville and Nashville. The confirmation comes from an authoritative source.

Tammany Leader Abruptly Quits in New York City.

He Quits Rather Than Appeal to Croker in Order to Name the Sachem—No Successor Possible.

SOME RADICAL CHANGES IN TAMMANY

New York, May 15.—Lewis Nixon, leader of Tammany Hall for nearly six months, resigned that position yesterday at a meeting of the district leaders held in Tammany Hall. While the resignation was not entirely unexpected, it was not thought that Mr. Nixon would take such positive action until a later date, awaiting the action of the leaders to see if they would give him a vote of confidence. Instead of this, he refused to allow any vote of confidence, and went so far as to say that he could no longer retain his self-respect if he remained as leader.

The meeting of the Thirty-seventh district leaders was called at the instance of Mr. Nixon. This action followed a deadlock at the meeting of the sachems of the Tammany Hall society Monday, when Mr. Nixon's intention of retaining Thomas L. Feltner as grand sachem was frustrated by a tie, there being six of the sachems of thirteen for and six against the retention, the thirteenth, George C. Clausen, being absent. The action of that time caused a general discussion of the possibilities of Mr. Nixon losing control of the organization, and the combination, headed by John F. Carroll ousting him. Mr. Nixon, in an interview, said that if he could not have the confidence of the leaders, he would "get out." Mr. Nixon would only say to the newspaper men:

"I am out as the leader of Tammany Hall. Ship building is my business. I am out of politics, and am glad of it. I will devote my time to my business of ship building, and will talk about that by the hour, but I will not talk about politics hereafter. The cause of my resignation is plain. I could have won out and elected Mr. Feltner grand sachem, but I will not appeal to Mr. Croker."

Following the departure of Mr. Nixon it was announced that a meeting of the executive committee of the district leaders would be held Thursday, at which Mr. Nixon's resignation will be acted upon. There were numerous rumors about the hall regarding the future policy of the organization. The most persistent and one that was indulged by several leaders, was that there would be no actual leader of Tammany for some time to come. This was coupled with a rumor that the finance committee would be abolished, as well as the chairmanship of this committee.

MEETS AT ESTILL SPRINGS NEXT

The seventh annual session of the local Underwriters' Association of Kentucky came to a close last evening, after the officers had been elected, and Estill Springs, Ky., chosen as the next place of meeting.

The visitors were last night taken to the carnival grounds and spent a very pleasant evening.

Among the resolutions adopted at the meeting were:

Resolved, That this association recognizes that the business placed on the books on any company belongs to the agent who put it there, and that in case of transfer of the company, whether direct or by reinsurance, the successor to such agency should not solicit expirations.

Mr. Sweeney, of Owensboro—That the association appoint a committee consisting of three members, to be known as the committee on "Overhead Writing," which shall be one of the permanent committees of the association.

By Mr. Tachau, of Louisville—That all members agree to discharge any agent convicted of rebating by the local board to which he is amenable from the employ of the members.

By Abram Weil, of Paducah—That all companies agree not to employ men uneducated in insurance matters.

By Mr. Schroetter, of Covington—That the incoming president appoint at an early date a committee on membership consisting of eleven members—one from each congressional district of the state of Kentucky—said committee to be presided over by the second vice president. This was amended to cover senatorial instead of congressional districts.

By A. H. Robinson, of Louisville—That every local agent in the state be urged to attend the national convention in Louisville in October, and that the president appoint delegates from each section to attend.

By Mr. Wilson—That this association agree not to appoint or employ a sub-agent not licensed by the state and not commissioned by a company, to solicit business in other towns or places than the place in which the local agent resides. This resolution is to become effective when agreed to by 90 per cent of the agents of the state.

One of the best papers of the meeting was that of Mr. George D. Markham of St. Louis, president of the National Association.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

President—W. M. Rodd, of Owensboro.

Secretary—W. V. Davis, of Louisville.

First vice president—John J. Barrett, of Louisville.

Second vice president—A. L. Weil.

Third vice president—H. C. Schroetter, of Covington.

Chairman of executive committee—W. N. Sweeney, of Owensboro.

It appears another negro who claims to be his brother has stepped in to claim the estate. It was reported to the Birmingham authorities that Jackson killed a man here about four years ago, but the police know nothing about it.

NAVAL HOME TODAY THROWN OPEN AT NEW YORK.

New York, May 15—The new home of the naval branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, located near the Brooklyn navy yard, was dedicated today with interesting ceremonies in which many persons of prominence participated.

The institution is a gift to the Association from Miss Helen Gould. It represents an outlay of close to one-half million dollars for building and site. It is seven stories in height and on the roof is a magnificent open air garden. In its spacious interior are library, reading rooms, gymnasium, assembly hall, reception rooms and other features to make the institution complete.

The dedicatory exercises included addresses by the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, the Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler, Rear Admiral A. S. Barker, Rear Admiral F. J. Higginson and Colonel John J. McCook. Throughout the day the building was thronged with sailors and marines from the Brooklyn, the Indiana, the Buffalo and other warships now at the Brooklyn navy yard.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS

Jackson, Miss., May 15—The 42nd annual session of the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church was called to order today in the First Presbyterian church by the retiring moderator, Dr. N. M. Woods of Memphis. About eighty presbyteries, scattered variously over the states of Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas and Indian Territory, were represented by commissioners. About two hundred commissioners were in attendance, half being ministers and half ruling elders. Much interest centers in the election of a moderator this afternoon, there being several prominent candidates in the field.

Mr. W. A. Davis, the well-known teamster and secretary of the Paducah Gun club, yesterday afternoon at a championship shoot broke 92 out of a possible 100 clay birds, smashing the club's record, and acknowledged to be the best shooting done over the range here. The shoot was between Messrs. James M. Lang, W. A. Davis, Moss Starr and Walter Wilkins, and the score was: Davis 92, Starr 82, Wilkins 81, and Lang 78. Mr. Starr was heretofore the club champion.

SCROFULA.

To cure Scrofula take Scott's Emulsion.

Scrofula may be described as "scattered consumption."

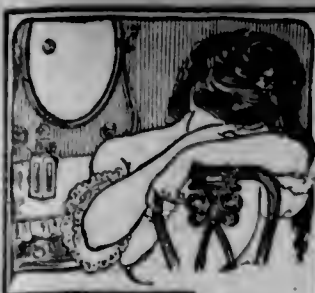

It is consumption of the small glands under the skin, and these break out into the sores. Scott's Emulsion heals these sores.

But there's more to the story. The loss of flesh and great weakness that comes with Scrofula is a regular part of the disease—the same as in consumption of the lungs. For this as for the sores, Scott's Emulsion is just the remedy.

Flesh and strength are gained by the use of Scott's Emulsion quicker than in any other way.

Scrofulous children improve in every way on Scott's Emulsion.

The Human Lottery

"Ah, if only I were beautiful how happy life would be!" Many a forlorn maid has said this as she looked into the mirror. For beautiful women have sacrificed home, love and friends. It is the one possession in the lottery of human life which women would not refuse.

BRADFIELD'S Female Regulator

For young girls on the threshold of womanhood, has been invaluable. When they become pale and languid, the eyes dull, aching head, feet and hands cold, appetite gone or abnormal, obstructed periods and painful menses, and their systems generally run down, they need building up, and their blood needs cleansing. Bradfield's Female Regulator for women is particularly valuable and useful owing to its tonic properties to build up the system, and as a regulator of the menstrual flow. Painful, obstructed and suppressed menstruation permanently relieved and all diseases peculiar to her genital organs are cured by it. Regulator clears the complexion, brightens the eye, sharpens the appetite, removes maldy and blotched conditions of the skin and cures sick headache to a certainty by removing the cause. Of druggists $1.00 per bottle. "Perfect Health for Women" is free and will be mailed on receipt of address. THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. ATLANTA, GA.

TAX DODGERS.

COMMISSIONERS IN NEW YORK TO HEAR NON-RESIDENTS TODAY.

New York, May 15—The tax commissioners today commenced to hear those persons assessed for personal tax who plead non-residence. The first case taken up was that of Mrs. Caroline Astor. She was assessed on $350,000, but she objected that her legal residence is in Newport, R. I. She obtained her certificate of residence there last January and it is maintained by the commissioners that she is consequently not entitled to exemption from last October's assessment. Many of New York's wealthiest residents are apparently endeavoring to avoid payment of personal taxes here by claiming to be residents of Newport or elsewhere. The commissioners, however, declare that they must show the best of proof that their actual permanent homes are outside of New York and that their dwelling houses in this city are occupied only transiently.

For Sickly Mothers.

Zoa Phora Brings Instant Relief to the Dreadful Pains and Backaches of Irrregularity, Curious Change of Life, Weakness, Nervousness, and All the Diseases Peculiar to Women.

LARGE TRIAL BOTTLE MAILED FREE TO ALL WHO WRITE.

Zoa Phora is the only true tonic for tired, pale, sickly women. It restores them, awakens their nerves, tones up their stomachs, brightens their eyes, and gives to their body the elasticity and buoyancy of youth. If you suffer from female weakness, leucorrhea, suppressed or painful monthly periods, falling or disordered menses, flooding, ulceration, incontinence, weak or lame back, disordered liver or stomach, sick kidneys, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous headache, or highly nervous condition of the body or mind take Zoa Phora and be cured.

Mrs. Emma Dobson, Jerseyville, Ill., says: "I have kept Zoa Phora in my house for twenty-one years, using it at monthly periods and preparatory to confinement. I have often said I had never so thoroughly enjoyed life without an attending physician than do without Zoa Phora previous to confinement. I have been the mother of five children. Before the first two came I had not heard of Zoa Phora, and suffered labor with one fifty hours before delivery. The last three births I used Zoa Phora during each pregnancy and was not in labor over four hours for any of them. I have now passed safely and comfortably through the critical time, called change of life. I suffered very little pain, because I used Zoa Phora. It is the best medicine for painful monthly periods I have ever seen, and I have given it to several women, and have never known it to fail."

Mrs. Martin Pisch, of North Dear, Mich., says: "I was troubled with female weakness, but I took Zoa Phora and I have not felt so well before in five years. I took Zoa Phora last fall just before my baby was born and it was the means of making confinement very easy for me. I continued taking it after baby came and it quickly restored me to health again. I often said I get a dollar bottle of Zoa Phora at the nearest drug store, or the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., will send it to you, prepaid, on receipt of price."

HANGS PAPER.

NEW DEVICE JUST COMING INTO USE—DOES THE WORK WELL.

The latest thing in the way of automatic machinery is the paper hanger. It is claimed for this machine that it will perform the work in a much more rapid and easy manner than the old method of spreading the paper on a table, cutting it into strips of the proper length, applying the paste and finally placing it in position on the wall.

According to the inventor about all the operator of this apparatus has to do is to turn the crank and place the machine in a new position after each piece of the paper is attached to the wall. The paper is placed in the machine in a single roll, and is automatically cut to the proper length, paste applied and the paper put on the wall while the operator is doing nothing but revolving the wheels by means of the crank.

The invention consists of a carriage arranged to travel on a vertical track and carrying a roll of paper, a paste holder, a rotary paste brush, pressure brushes and a knife for severing the paper at the proper moment. The roll of paper in unwinding is made to come in conjunction with the paste carrying brush, passing thence to the wall. The turning of the crank causes the supporting carriage to rise in its toothed guides, carrying the pressure brushes across the paper as fast as it is put in position. When the top of the room is reached the stoppage of the carriage is utilized to throw the long knife blade into a slot and sever the paper. The carriage is then pulled down by means of the chains and the supporting frame moved along to the next position on the floor. More time is occupied in placing the machine in position than in applying each section of the paper, but even this is a short operation, owing to the guides which are supplied for the purpose.

The passenger steamer I. C. Wood, ran into a loaded coal tow near Mound, Mo., on the Monongahela, and sank in fifteen feet of water. When the collision occurred passengers were asleep, but all were landed safely. Several members of the crew jumped overboard and succeeded in reaching the shore. Two horses were drowned. The cargo is almost a total loss.

The following fleet of towboats is in port at Pittsburg: Iron Age, Ironsides, Tom Dawsworth, Sam Brown, Charley Brown, Mariner, Hornet No. 2 Boaz, Gleaner, Harvester, George W. Thomas, Sam Clarke, Joe Walton, Nellie Walton, Dave Wood, Jai Wood, B. D. Wood, Enterprise, Cruiser, Toronado, Coal City, John Moran, James Moran, Ed Roberts, Stella Moran, Pacific No. 2 and Josh Cook.

The officers of the Pittsburg Coal combine have received encouraging news from the wrecks recently left at the bottom of the Mississippi at Friar's Point by the towboat J. B. Finley. It is in effect that possibly 95 per cent of the cargo of wire and nails will be saved, while there is little doubt that the contents of the coal packages will be recovered with a loss of from 300 to 500 bushels on each. A number of the barges and boats will be raised, patched and sent to Pittsburg to be reconstructed, and by the time the cleanup is finished the loss to the big corporation will be comparatively small. This accident was caused by the breaking of a small rod in the machinery of the towboat while she was working a full head on, and her sudden compulsory stop caused the hangers holding the tows together to part, then came the crash and final sinking of the several pieces.

FOURTEEN YEARS.

FIRST TIME CRANE AND ROBSON WERE TOGETHER ON THE STAGE.

New York, May 15.—Playgoers were given a rare treat at the Knickerbocker theater this afternoon at a performance given for the benefit of the Actors' Home Fund. The performance was "The Henrietta," and Stuart Robson and William H. Crane were seen in the parts they made familiar to the public two decades ago. It was the first appearance of the veteran players together on the stage in fourteen years, at which time they dissolved partnership. Their joint appearance led to the rumor that they were to star jointly again, but this is denied by both of the actors.

THE WEATHER.

Showers tonight and probably Friday.

The beef trust has been pretty much on the hog since the volcano across the water got down to business. The papers haven't space to talk much about it.

It will doubtless be a matter of universal interest to know that ex-President Cleveland is alive enough to go a-fishing and tell the usual yarns when he gets home.

It never rains but it pours. After the disastrous activity of the volcanoes of Martinique, Vesuvius has gone on the war path and Mrs. Carrie Nation has broken loose again in Kansas.

It is likely former "Chairman" Joe Potter of the Democratic county committee, thinks the Town Cow kicked him, since the District chairman sent Mr. Emery the ballots and the money to pay the election officers.

The robbers who attempted to rob the Salt Lick deposit bank at Owingsville yesterday evidently are of the opinion they got a run for their money. They secured only one lone dollar, and came near being caught with that.

The Democratic county committee ought to do like our Methodist brethren who had a nip and took time of it at the big conference at Dallas. Appoint a day for fasting and prayer, and perhaps the spirit will move them to agree.

The Martinique disaster has been attributed now to the sun and moon. It must have taken two old fellows quite a while to get onto their jobs, as they have been there a long time, and so has the volcano that suddenly got its habits on.

Prominent Republicans of the state at noon today assumed charge of the Louisville Commercial, unless something unforeseen occurred. The change of business and editorial management, as a matter of course, will not take place at once.

Mr. John J. Saunders, formerly of Paducah, has been elected vice president of the Louisville Commercial club. Another former Paducahan, Mr. Clarence Dallam, has just retired as president of the club. Paducahans usually make themselves heard, wherever they go.

The Panama canal is coming into more popularity now, since the recent volcanic eruptions. The Nicaraguan route is considered too near the seat of numerous seismic disturbances. Senator Hanna, it is understood, will speak in congress shortly in favor of the Panama route, which has always been considered the shorter and cheaper of the two.

The carnival has thus far been a howling success. Last night the attendance was simply astounding. The people who have visited it say with one accord that it is the greatest carnival ever held in this part of the state. The absence of the merchants' booths deceives some people into believing that the carnival is not so large as last year, but this is an error into which any person is likely to fall. What a vast majority of the people want to see is the other attractions, and they are certainly seeing them, afternoon and night, with a vengeance.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE TRUSTS. (Louisville Post.)

The partisan Democratic organs indulge in strange comment on the President's movements to enforce the anti-trust laws, considering they have led the chorus of anti-trust shouters. They can no longer question the sincerity of the administration, but they take peculiar delight in picturing the President as in danger of wrecking his personal fortunes and splitting his party. They are predicting failure in the efforts to enforce the law and the opposition of a large element of his own party. It is evident that they are hoping and praying for failure. They are greatly disturbed by the possibility that he may succeed.

Where they are not whining over the appropriation of one of their copyrighted issues, the extreme partisans who have been most strenuous opponents of the trusts have suddenly lost the power to express an opinion. They are no longer so aggressive in their war of words against the octopus. Perhaps they are dazed by the more definite policy of action from an unexpected source.

It is evident that many of the organs prefer to have nothing done to interfere with the meat trust, or any other trust, unless it is to be done by the Democrats. They see the people bear the burdens they have long denounced rather than see them relieved in such a manner as to give political advantage to the Republicans.

ITALY'S POPULATION INCREASING.

Almost the Only Latin Country in Europe That is Growing.

Italy is almost the only Latin country in Europe which shows a steady growth of population. Freece has for years been on the decline, but latest statistics show it is nearly stationary, the death and birth rates being nearly equal. The returns of the recent census in Italy are now published and they show a gratifying though not extraordinary growth of population in the peninsula, despite the large emigration and the hard times which have prevailed there in late years. The round numbers the population of Italy is now 32,500,000. That is an increase of more than 4,000,000 in the last 20 years. That is not a large increase, but it is, on the whole, satisfactory. It is not, of course, the whole increase of the Italian race. In these 20 years more than 2,000,000 Italians have emigrated to other lands. The actual growth of the race has, therefore, been more than 6,000,000 in 20 years, or more than 1 per cent a year.

This does not, however, confirm the common idea that the Italians are an exceptionally prolific race. The growth of other nations has been proportionately more rapid. That of France has not been. That of Russia has been affected by conquest and wholesale annexation. That of the United States has been due to enormous immigration, as well as to a high birth rate. But while Italy in the 19th century increased from 16,000,000 to 32,500,000, or only a little more than doubled. Great Britain grew from 16,000,000 to 41,000,000 and Germany from 21,000,000 to 50,000,000, and each of these countries suffered as great a loss from war as Italy and a considerably greater loss through emigration.

Too Good to Lose.

His fell on his neck and reminded him of the good old times. He mentioned the old playmate, and spoke tenderly of those who were dead.

After the fifth one they were as long lost brothers, and so he ventured it. "Sam," he said, "I need me $50 till tomorrow. I'm a good friend of yours." "You are," the other murmured with enthusiasm. "You are the playmate of infancy, the friend of youth, and the inspiration of manhood's happy hours, but," and a strange sadness crept into his voice as that it vibrated like the tones of some rich instrument, "I can't lend you $50, Bill. You're too good a friend to lose."

at all handsome, while Prof. Briggs has a face that betokens refinement as well as strength. A few brunettes here and there, all placed by Big Frank, only add to his soldier-like warlike appearance, but the girls are with the kaugatoos, and that strong fellow seems to comprehend and appreciate the vigorous clapping of tiny hands as he knocks his antagonist against the ropes, looks upon him with disdain, and finally plants with his blind feet, which means much to Frank, upon his antagonist's stomach, which generally puts him down and out.

SOME THINGS TO BE SEEN ON THE MIDWAY.

"Holy Smoke," the camel which Lillian Russell rode and created such a sensation, is here, and soon the cry of "lean away back" can be heard in the beautiful Orient, mixed with the strains of the weird Oriental musicians.

The show that is attracting the most attention aside from the animal show is the Phantoscope, which has a front built like an animal show, being mounted with heavy carved work inlaid with pure gold, with paintings of some of the leading events of the day. Edison's latest animated pictures will be presented and the most interesting will be the recent visit of Prince Itany and President Roosevelt's visit to Charleston. This will be the first time these pictures have been seen outside of New York. The only successful colored animated pictures of the beautiful pantomime "Cinderella" will be made a feature for the ladies and children. Bluebeard and all of the Mother Goose stories are given in colored Oriental pictures.

Bostock's celebrated school of baby elephants are attracting no little attention, as they are almost the smallest and youngest elephants at the present time in the country. They are all performers and give a most interesting exhibition in their slow, droll way, which never fails to amuse all who see them. This will be one of the free exhibitions. Under the careful training of their director, Mr. P. W. Barlow, who has only been training them for seven months, they have made rapid strides. While Roger, the oldest of the trio, is doing his turn at grinding the organ, Alice stands on her hind legs unassisted, and Tommy, the funny clown and boisterous member of the family, proceeds to stand on his head. The three of them play ten pins, keep house, cake walk, dance, play policeman, sawsaw and form beautiful and striking tableaux, and as a finish leave the platform waving American flags to good old "Dixie."

BIG EXCURSION SATURDAY.

Captain Joe Fowler, president of the Paducah and Evansville Packet company, this morning received a telegram from Mr. R. F. Knecher, the passenger agent of the C. and E. L. road, saying that fifty 1,000 excursionists would be in Paducah from his road and to make some arrangements for transporting them to the city.

Captain Fowler will run the Dick Fowler and the John S. Hopkins to the city from Joppy, the Illinois terminal of the road and will arrive with the crowds at 1 o'clock.

SHADOW THAT TURNED TO LIFE.

Tonight Prof. Carrington, of the Moorish Palace, who does the statues turning to life tana, will take anyone in the audience who will volunteer, to the stage and make him or her disappear just as the statue does. He will make this experiment to convince the public, and will ask for a volunteer at 8 o'clock.

MORE ABOUT COMBINATION NUMBERS.

The executive committee desires all who purchase tickets at the country store to remember to keep the tickets that have combination numbers on them. All numbers over 100 are what is known as combination numbers, and with others draw the larger prizes. It requires three numbers to form a combination, and these numbers, with the articles they draw, are to be found on the bulletin board in front of the store. The first two rows of numbers are common, as there are 73 or 100 of them, but the last row of numbers, or the third in the combination, are the "key" numbers, and there is only one each of them. Every ticket with "combination" should be retained in order that none may be lost and the prizes all given out.

This is Cairo day at the carnival and there are hundreds of Illinois people mixing with the thousands of others, enjoying the sights. The sudden change in the temperature was most gratifying, and brought out much larger crowds.

The spicers for today are: George Detzel, Walter Shephard, John Theobald, James Wallis, J. E. English, E. N. Gilson, G. T. Gilbert, Fred Hildborn, George O. Hart, J. G. Harneling, R. T. Lightfoot, J. C. Flournoy, Lee Livingston, W. H. Moreland, A. J. Michaelson, M. B. Nash, Jr., H. M. Orme, Theo. Peters, Jr., G. Hunkliff, R. Rudy.

The spicers are a part of the carnival, and their antics and speeches are funnier than any of the strange things from strange lands. It is really amusing to see the friends of some of the Paducah Elks gather about them as they mount the platform and go to shouting through a megaphone. They are all right so long as they don't get rattled.

The police take little stock in the reports of robberies. The trouble with a great many visitors is that they get drunk and lose or spend their money, and tell the police they had their pockets picked, so it will get into the papers and they will have a plausible story to take home to their families.

There was plenty of confetti to suit the most fastidious last night. It was thrown by the bushes and some of our good citizens are still busy disgorging.

The big man with a little cane that has a loud noise on one end is one of the strange incongruities of carnival time. It is veritably like going back to childhood days. He is transformed to a youngster and forgets how funny he looks playing with a toy pistol or a tin horn.

Will somebody try to carry out the suggestion of a contemporary and "seat the people"? There are only a few thousand to seat, and if we can only borrow a few chairs for a few days, perhaps the weary crowds can be accommodated.

The country store came near selling out last night. The crowds surged about it all the evening and were still eager to buy after the clock had struck midnight. Some of the best prizes are still there and will have to be drawn with combination numbers.

Other donations arrived today and the stock has been fully replenished. There is nothing wrong in getting numbers from others in order to complete a combination. In fact it is becoming a popular way to secure a prize.

TICKET TAKERS.

The ticket takers for Friday will be: Afternoon—James Ray, R. C. Bonner, C. E. Graham, J. E. Coulson, R. D. Clements, H. A. Katterjohn, J. E. GOVERNOR'S DAY.

Tomorrow will be Governor's Day and it is fully expected that there will be 20,000 people at the carnival. The Frankfort crowd will come in a private car, and it will be: Governor Beckham, Mr. Gus G. Coulter, Mr. Samuel J. Shackelford, Mr. John B. Chenant, Mr. Thomas A. Hall, Mr. John B. Walters, Mr. Percy Haly, Mr. Edward O. Leigh and Mr. Harry G. Tandy of the official staff.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser and others will welcome the party at the union depot and escorted by the Knights of Huedisp, the crowd will go to the Palmer, where breakfast will be served at 8:30. From 11 to 12 a reception will be held at the hotel.

During the afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock the staff will be upon the carnival grounds and share in the festivities. At the latter hour Manager George Wallace of the street railway company will have the crowd taken to the park, where supper will be served and two hours spent looking over the place which the adjacent general desires to inspect as a suitable place to hold the state encampment this year.

Returning from the park the governor's crowd will take in the carnival at night and then return home on the 1:20 o'clock train the following morning.

THE GOVERNOR'S SUPPER.

The governor's supper in the La Belle park cafe tomorrow evening will be quite a social event. It will be given by General Manager Geo. C. Wallace of the street car company, and the following have been invited, in addition to the governor and his party: Mayor D. A. Yeiser, Hon. Chas. Reed, Messrs. Ed P. Noble, Wm. Kraus, R. G. Caldwell, Jas. E. Robertson, Urey Woodson, W. F. Paxton, Geo. C. Thompson, Joseph L. Friedman and W. H. Powell. A special car will leave the carnival grounds at 5:30 p. m. and return from the park at 8:30 p. m.

EASY VICTIMS OF CARD SHARKS.

High-Rolling Players Cheated Out of Immense Amounts.

In the old days of gambling the men who played highest were very frequently the most easily duped. Whether, Duke of Bedford, was famously robbed by a gang of sharpers of whom Ben Nash was the head. The duke had been plundered out of over $350,000 at hazard, when, suspecting the dice to be loaded, he rose in a passion, put them in his pocket and refused to play or pay further until he had examined them. He retired to another room and fell asleep, ordering the conspirators the chance to pick his pockets and substitute legitimate dice for the loaded. The duke on awakening and finding the dice correct played again and lost a further $150,000. Ben Nash, not getting a sufficient share of the plunder, informed the duke. A singular misadventure befell a duke of Norfolk early in the last century. He went through the same ceremony of carrying off the dice and falling asleep with them in his possession. In this instance, however, the thieves got a notorious desperado to go into the room with a brace of pistols and new dice, with instructions to shoot the duke if the latter were awake and to change the dice if he were asleep.

Oldest and Youngest Congressmen.

There has been some controversy as to the identity of the youngest member of Congress, but there is none as to the oldest in either branch. That distinction in the Senate belongs to Pettus of Alabama, born in 1821, and in the House to Grow of Pennsylvania, born in 1823.

A SHEAF OF RHYMES.

The Misanthrope's Hey-Day.

Let's talk about the weather—for I hate my fellow man.
I like to make my neighbor as unhappy as I can.
I like to see him sizzle in companionship with me;
To add to his discomfort moderates my misery.
So I stop him on the corner and I show him all dismayed,
The weather man's announcement that it's 90 in the shade.
And I blandly buttonhole him and I hold him fast to hear
My tale of the humidity that's in the atmosphere.
I show him where the wagons, as they plod along the street,
Leave deep ruts in the paving which is softened by the heat;
And I watch his writhing torture with a diabolic gloe.
For I know I've found a person more unhappy than I am,
To make my fiendish work complete, I tell him, as a rule,
It's very wrong to fret; that he must study to keep cool.
I find sad relief in my grim Misanthropic plan.
Let's talk about the weather—for I hate my fellow man.
—Washington Star.

Advice—Misanthropic.

While Cupid ways this mundane sphere,
And men are only human,
She is most wise who won't appear
Too reasonable a woman.
Alack that lets ordained it so!
'Tis passing melancholy;
But naught that Reason e'er can show
Is half so sweet as Folly.
In ardent whims some witchcraft lies
That logic ever misses,
And common sense is plain to eyes
That seek capricious bliss;
While unto every lover's fire
It adds a wealth of fuel
If she who doth his love inspire
Is sometimes rather cruel.

Know what you will, meadames, but I know
The acorn of all knowledge
Is fact, albeit we cannot show
Its chair in any college.

Keep some small fancies—for I deem
You have them, being human—
And so be what you do not seem—
A reasonable woman.
—Beatrice Blaucom, in Century Magazine.

The Tree-Toad.

Secluded, solitary on some undergrowth,
Or cradled in a leaf, 'mid glimmering light,
Like fawn thou crouchest, haply watching
The slow, unobtrusive, bulging,
The slow, unobtrusive, bulging,
Through mossy, mossy foam, or how,
Against the night,
The glowworm gathers silver to endow
The darkness with, or how the dew
Conspires
To hush at dusk with lamps of chilly fire
Each blade that shivers now.

Art trumpeter of lower land? does thy horn
Inform the gnomes and goblins of the ho?
When they may gambel under haw and thorn,
Straddling each waking bed and twin-king flower?
Or bell-ringer of Elfland? whose tall tower
The Hildendron let from whence is borne
The elfin music of thy bell's deep bass
To summon a fairies to their starlit maze,
To summon them of woe.
—Madison Cuswin, in Atlantic.

The President's Maiden and the Man.
III.
Since you have smiled I find the world
A place all beautiful and bright;
I've heard you sigh—things once despised,
Now fill my heart with pure delight!
Today I look upon the fields
That once with weeds were overgrown,
And lo! I see fair flowers there
Sprung noddling in the sun!
I see you smile and lofty heights
Whereon I long have sought to stand
Soon shall I see beneath my feet
If I may hold you by the hand!
—HILL.

And since I hear your praise the sky
Has seemed a fuller, deeper blue,
And all the birds have seemed to sing
Enchanting songs concerning you!
I hear you speak and gaze around—
Follow things, and hear no more—
The scene has changed to fairyland
That looked so bare and brown before—
Not first as you and gain the height
And when upon its peak you stand,
Then beckon down to me, and I'll come up
And let you hold my hand.
—B. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times-Herald.

Go to sleep.
Over the wall a thousand sheep
Go to sleep, go to sleep;
You count them, black and white,
You'll be climbing heaven's height;
You count them, one by one,
Those that walk and those that run,
Those that scamper, leap and play,
You will find them fade away.
They will wander o'er the steep,
Go to sleep, go to sleep.

Go to sleep, go to sleep.
Acres of grain that nod and peep,
Go to sleep, go to sleep;
Watch the heads that bow and sway,
Soon you'll see their fade away;
Nodding to you through the gloom,
You can see them in the room,
Quietly bowing, smiling yet,
But in dreams you'll soon forget,
Grain will disappear like sheep,
Go to sleep, go to sleep.
—Frank H. Sweet, in N. Y. Home Journal.

Expectancy.

Some day, some day 'twill all come right,
The tangled skein will all unwind,
And we will grasp the colors bright
And leave the somber threads behind.
The sun is slow and real is sweet,
Yet tears draw round us when it sets,
And sorrow comes with winged feet
And joy but heralds new regrets.

Even while we taste sweet draughts will turn
To bitterness that hurts us sore;
We learn to love and, loving, learn
To feel the loved one's loss the more.
And yet, when "Reason's" light grows pale,
There shines through darkness still a ray
Of faith untaught which cannot fail,
And leads us onward to some day.

Gum Arabic.

Gum arabic is an exudation from certain species of acacia. In order to obtain the gum, the stem must be cut or perforated so that the juice may exude. In the majority of cases this necessary perforation is accomplished by ants, without whose labors, therefore, the world could not get its supply of gum arabic.

Duties of Faderewski's Valet.

Faderewski keeps a valet, whose principal occupation is to rub the great pianist's fingers at stated times, to knead the palms of his hands and to crack his knuckles. A Gladstone Escapade.

It is very hard for any of us to realize that the world's great men were once boys, and often mischievous and fun-loving boys at that. Children are always delighted to hear of some frolic indulged in by some great man when he was a boy, and so they will surely appreciate the following:

Next door to Mr. Gladstone's home when he was a little boy lived a lady who gave large evening receptions, and during the evening there would be many coachmen and footmen waiting outside. Gladstone and his brother would go on the top floor of their house, armed with squirt guns, with which they squirted the coachmen and footmen waiting in the street below. Henry Chaplin said the way in which the venerable statesman chuckled at the recollection of these youthful escapades was most amusing. He said that Mr. Gladstone became quite convulsed when he proceeded to tell him how delightful he and his brother were to hear the servants expressing their wonder as to where the rain came from.

A Judge of Art.

The seller of pot-bollers came into the office of the shrewd broker with the air of one who is about to sacrifice a priceless treasure. It was a seascope; a troubled sea beat upon purple rocks, and wind-driven gulls wheeled in wild circles above the familiar pot-boller ship. The seller of pot-bollers looked upon the treasure long and yearningly. It could be seen that a grievous struggle between art and appetite was raging within him. "How much do you want for it?" demanded the shrewd broker. "One hundred dollars," said the pot-boller man. "It's giving it away," "Give you three for it," said the shrewd broker. "It's yours," said the pot-boller man. "That fellow across the way only offered me 75 cents, but he ain't no judge of art." —New York Post.

Superstition Is Dying Out.

"Real estate men are gradually forgetting most of the old-time superstitions which used to cause us much trouble," said a dealer the other day. "The number of houses which can not be rented or sold on account of being haunted or because some terrible crime was committed on the premises is rapidly decreasing. We run across only a few people who balk at living in house No. 13. Even elderly men who have made big fortunes are beginning to believe that there is nothing in the old saying that the aged rich man builds a mansion to die in." —New York Tribune.

British Veteran in Poorhouse.

Alexander Park, an inmate of the Chesham county, New York, almshouse, is a survivor of the great Indian mutiny of nearly fifty years ago. The British government has learned of this and has informed State Charity Commissioner McCarthy that the English authorities will pay for the transportation of Park to England, where he will be cared for at the hospital for English Veterans. Park was a member of the Bombay fusiliers and went through the awful scenes of Lucknow and Cawnpore. He will be sent home at once.

Decrees Against Tobacco.

In 1624 Urban VIII. published a decree of excommunication against all who took snuff in the church. Ten years later smoking was forbidden in Russia under pain of having the nose cut off. In 1653 the council of the canton of Appenzell, Switzerland, cited smokers before them, whom they punished, ordering all innkeepers to inform against such as were found smoking in their houses.

Interesting Horologes.

A very "timely" conversation was carried on recently between a hostess and a fair young guest. The hostess was entertaining the company with descriptions of her trip abroad and of the wonderful things she had seen. Among other things she mentioned the clock at Strasburg. "Oh, yes," remarked the girl, "I have heard all about that; and did you see the watch on the Rhine, too?" —Boston Journal.

Jinrikisha Men as Walkers.

A great walking competition in Tokio in which most of the competitors were jinrikisha men resulted in a fiasco, none of the men competing the minimum of seventy miles. This excited some surprise, as the jinrikisha men have immensely developed legs. The result is attributed to their want of staying power.

Speedy Long-Distance Delivery.

The speediest long-distance delivery of mail ever accomplished in the world was that of the consignment which left Sydney, Australia, Oct. 15, for London, England, by the American route. A distance of 15,265 miles was covered in thirty-one days, a saving of four days over the Suez canal route.

STREETS OF NEW YORK

English Stock Will Present a New Play This Evening.

The Crowd Last Night was the Largest of the Week at the Kentucky

The English Stock company was last night greeted by perhaps the largest house of the week. "A Savage From Japan" was given for the last time, and this evening the initial production of "Streets of New York" will be given, doubtless to the largest audience that has yet been out to enjoy the excellent company's performances. It will be a good, strong play and cannot fail to please those who go.

"The Streets of New York" is a sensational comedy-drama with powerful and stirring scenes. The play was written by one of the most clever author actors that ever lived. Mr. Dinn Bonelcant, author of "Colleen Bawn," "Con, the Shaughraun" and many others. His "Streets of New York" was one of the best plays ever produced in New York and had a run of over two hundred nights at Wallack's Theater with the famous actor George C. Boniface in the great character of Badger. The play depicts true life in the great metropolis where poverty and riches meet on common ground and wage their war.

The English Stock company will make a splendid production of this play in every detail and bring out all its moral value. Mr. James will be seen as the historical bank clerk Badger. Miss Gale will be seen as Alida Bloodgood, the unconquerable daughter of the famous banker. Miss Wayne will portray Lucy Fairweather, daughter of the old sea captain who left his family in poverty through being robbed by the banker. Mr. Harmon, a new member of the company, will appear as the old sea captain and his son, while Mr. Forsythe will be seen as the famous Banker Bloodgood. Miss Field will be seen as Mrs. Fairweather, mother of Paul and Lucy, who bears her poverty with sweet resignation. Miss Stockton will assume male attire and play Dan Puffy, son of old Puffy the hot corn vender, a part which will be interpreted by Mr. Florence. Miss Louise Henry is also cast for a good comedy part, that of Jenny Jones, who is a diamond in the rough. Mr. Griggs will appear as Mark Livingston, a young man whose fortune was swept away in the bank panic.

Specialties introduced by Messrs. Florence and Griggs and Misses Henry and Wayne.
